The 20 ETFs with the biggest outflows of July 2024

The first half of 2024 marked a record stretch for ETFs, but not all funds were lifted by the rising tide.

Last month, U.S. exchange-traded funds scored a net inflow of $117 billion — the second-highest monthly total on record, according to Morningstar Direct, and only the fourth time monthly flows topped $100 billion.

In July, inflation fell below 3% for the first time since June 2023. The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics' Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers (CPI-U) for July was 2.9% higher than a year ago. That's the smallest 12-month increase since March 2021.

But even amid these positive headlines, some funds were left behind.

Two mid-cap ETFs took the biggest hits of the month, each seeing a net loss of more than $3 billion.

Which specific funds lost the most investor cash? Scroll through the cardshow below for the 20 ETFs with the biggest outflows of July 2024. All data is from Morningstar Direct and is current as of Aug. 2, 2024.
